Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Tom Armstrong titled “Britain Rises: A Patriotic Awakening the Establishment Cannot Contain” was posted at americanthinker.com on Sept. 15, 2025. Following are excerpt from the article.

Something fundamental shifted in Britain on September 13, 2025. In the heart of London, a sea of flags unfurled and hundreds of thousands (no, millions) of ordinary men and women marched together for ideas.

- Britain must remain Britain.
- Its borders must be defended.
- Its culture, heritage and people deserve respect.

Naturally, the mainstream press dutifully downplayed the numbers – claiming “just” 110,000 to 150,000 attended. But I was there. I can assure you that nobody who was there believes it. It was far larger – at least one million. It did not appear out of nowhere. It was the culmination of months of patriotic ferment across the country.

- Anti-illegal immigration protests outside migrant hotels
- Towns and villages covered in Union Jacks
- Lamp posts wrapped in flags
- St. George’s Crosses painted defiantly on roundabouts
- All exploding into London – shaking Britain’s rotten ruling class to its core

Why now? The answer is simple – ordinary Britons have had enough.

- In cities across the UK, traditional British culture feels under siege.
- And then there is the two-tier justice.
- Police crack down on patriots, but turn a blind eye to lawlessness from favored groups.
- Brexit was supposed to change this – but politicians broke their promises.
- Britains no longer believe that their government represents them.

And make no mistake – the Establishment is terrified.

- They see the size of the movement.
- They see the sincerity of the people.
- They see that the people in the crowd are not professional activists.
- They see that the people in the crowd are not NGOs funded by billionaire foundations.
- They see that the people are plumbers, builders, nurses, lorry drivers and pensioners.
- They fear the political consequences.
- They fear an earthquake at the ballot box.
- They see that their decades-long effort to stigmatize patriotism has failed.

An article by John and Andy Schlafly titled “Trump Is 18-0 Winning Streak at SCOTUS Underscores the Problem of Rogue Judges” was posted at thefederalist.com on Sept. 12, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

No NFL team in the last 50 years has had a perfect season, but this is Trump’s record in the U.S. Supreme Court: 18-0. His splendid solicitor general, John Sauer, has racked up 18 wins this year by staying lower court decisions against Trump and thereby allowing the president to exercise the full “executive power” granted by Article II of the Constitution.

These victories have been on emergency applications to the Supreme Court, where it is difficult to obtain the justices’ attention and even more challenging to prevail. Also called the “shadow docket,” these wins by Trump have come quickly, without oral argument, often by a 6-3 or greater margin.

- 7 of these wins have been on deporting illegal aliens.
- 5 of these wins have been on firing unnecessary federal workers.
- 4 of these wins have been on terminating wasteful federal spending.
- 1 has been on ending transgender personnel in the military.
- 1 has been on stopping the epidemic of nationwide injunctions by district court judges.

Many more lawsuits against Trump are percolating through the federal court system on the road to the ultimate review by the Supreme Court.

There are signs that justices on the High Court are growing impatient with liberal lower court judges' defiance of precedents that favor Trump – which has burdened the Supreme Court throughout these summer months to stay the anti-Trump decisions.

Supreme Court Justice Neil Gorsuch (one of the less conservative justices) expressed his exasperation on August 21.

He wrote: “So this is now the third time in a matter of weeks this Court has had to intercede in a case squarely controlled by one of its precedents. All these interventions should have been unnecessary, but together they underscore a basic tenet of our judicial system: Whatever their own views, judges are duty-bound to respect the hierarchy of the federal court system created by the Constitution and Congress.”

Gorsuch wrote this while quoting precedent, in the victory for Trump in “NIH vs. American Public Health Association – allowing Trump to terminate research grants.

After working all summer to block anti-Trump rulings by federal judges in district and appellate courts (mostly in the First and D.C. Circuits, where liberals have forum-shopped their cases to obtain Democrat-appointed judges), the Supreme Court returns on Monday, September 29.

Then, it will hold its traditional “long conference” to dispose of hundreds of petitions for certiorari that accumulated while the judges were away. The following week, the Supreme Court begins its oral arguments for its “2025 term” that will last until the end of June next year. Trump can expect to win many more reversals of flawed lower court rulings that liberal judges are rendering against him.

An article by Elle Purnell titled “After Charlie Kirk’s Murder, There Can Be No More Both-Sides-IsM” was posted at thefederalist.com on Sept. 12, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

There are a lot of reasons Charlie Kirk was effective. An underrated one was his grasp of who the enemy was, who it wasn’t and how to aim the considerable amount of organizational and oratory resources at his disposal.

In the years since his early days of talking about “debt and deficit,” Kirk’s grasp of the battle he was fighting had obviously crystallized.

If you didn’t understand that there exist evil forces on the left who want you dead because you believe the same things Charlie did, you should now.

Understand that a significant subset of people on the left are celebrating the death of a husband and father – who stood for the same things you do.

Understand that they will not be assuaged by generic words about unity, because they do not want unity with you.

Understand, also, that the shooter did not come to exist in a vacuum.

Directly or indirectly, the shooter is a product of the financiers of domestic terror groups like Antifa – who promulgate ideologies of violence like those Kirk’s assassin reportedly engraved on his shell casings.

His ilk are radicalized by the media and other Democrats who incite political violence by engaging in breathless character assassination against people like Kirk – smearing them as Nazis and threats to democracy for no other crime than peacefully trying to change minds.

Young people like him are driven to darkness by the gruesome false gospel of transgenderism and its clerics – who teach their adherents to hate the very image of God.

It is beyond obvious that violent extremism is a spiritual outgrowth of the left’s desire for chaos and agitation.

- It’s not a coincidence that radical adherents of transgenderism have shot up Christian schools.
- It’s not a coincidence that Donald Trump was shot after a decade of leftist rhetoric comparing him to Hitler.
- It’s not a coincidence that when leftists don’t get their own way, cities burn.

Of course, there are internet randos who say vile things. But the best way to render them irrelevant is to ignore them and keep on doing important things for the country.

Charlie Kirk did more than almost anyone to steer the conversation on the right in an effective direction, and he did it by giving air-time to important things and talking about them persuasively. He didn’t fret about who should be allowed to have a voice on the right or use the leftist tactic of shutting down speech by smearing it as “extremist.”

He just made better arguments.

An article by Shawn Fleetwood titled “If You’re Not Focused on Fighting Left-Wing Violence, Step Aside” was posted at thefederalist.com on Sept. 15, 2025. Following are excerpts of the article.

The spate of leftist-led violence in America (particularly against conservatives) has become a nationwide problem. So, what are elected Republicans going to do about it?

Following the horrific assassination of Turning Point USA founder Charlie Kirk, many GOP officials quickly posted statements rightly condemning the killing. With few exceptions, however, there was something notable missing from these figures' responses – An action plan on how to lawfully confront the evil harming their voters and everyday Americans.

Senator James Lankford (of Oklahoma) asked: “Why can’t we at least talk about things where we disagree?”

Lankford acknowledged that talking “about things where we disagree” was a hallmark of who Kirk was. He regularly went into the belly of the beast (i.e. college campuses) to hear from those with different views and tried to bring them not only to conservatism, but to Jesus Christ.

And the extremist elements within the radical left executed him for it.

Conservatives (or anyone) should not be choosing violence over civil dialogue. Far from it. . . . But elected Republicans need to use every legal mechanism available to them under the law and Constitution to destroy the leftist violence threatening American society. That means (for example) investigating individuals and organizations financially supporting these violent acts and bringing the full force of the law down upon them for any and all lawbreaking.

This call to action doesn’t just apply to national Republicans, either. State and local GOP officials should be exploring avenues to fracture and dismantle the organized leftist violence permeating their jurisdictions to ensure the safety and prosperity of their constituents.

If members of the Republican Party aren’t prepared to do what is necessary to protect the people they were elected to serve, they shouldn’t keep pretending they have any business remaining in public office. Americans need elected representatives with the fortitude required to confront and destroy this dark ideology head on. Any Republican not up to this challenge should quit wasting everyone’s time and resign their seat immediately.

The future safety of America depends on it.

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
