But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Alexis Lapp titled “Bad Bunny’s Record Label Reportedly Has Deep Ties to Venezuelan Dictatorship” was posted at dailycaller.com on Feb. 3, 2026. Following is the article.

The record label behind Bad Bunny (who is set to headline the 2026 Super Bowl halftime show) was founded by a former official in Hugo Chavez’s Venezuelan government – according to the Dallas Express.

Rafael Ricardo Jimenez Dan (who founded Rimas Entertainment in 2014 and served as its original primary investor) was Venezuela’s Vice Minister of Legal Security from 2006 to 2007 – according to his LinkedIn profile. Rimas has since become a powerhouse in Latin music, representing artists including Bad Bunny and Karol G, the outlet reported.

In 2006, he was reportedly assigned a director role in Mission Identity, a contentious national ID program that has been linked to allegations of providing documents to terrorists and criminals – according to the Daily Wire. However, the primary accusations regarding passport fraud have centered on Tarek El Aissami, Venezuela’s former interior minister.

Jimenez Dan spoke out against these reports in an August interview with Music Business Worldwide saying: “I am not and never have been a political actor. I’m not a member of any political party in Venezuela – not left, not right. I never had any involvement in the coup d’etat with Chavez.”

Nina Valedon Santiago, a former undersecretary for Puerto Rico’s Popular Democratic Party (PPD) and 2024 Senate candidate, called on the FBI to investigate Rimas for potential “risks against national security.” She alleged that Jimenez Dan invested $2 million in Rimas using funds connected to the Venezuelan government. However, Jimenez Dan maintains his investment came from legitimate business ventures, and the PPD distanced itself from Valedon’s claims.

Bad Bunny drew criticism Sunday over his Grammy’s acceptance speech in which he said: “Before I say thanks to God, I’m going to say, ICE out.”

Isaiah 55:6-11—“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
