Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take you stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Veronica Neifakh titled “The Four Stages of Hamas’s Psychological Warfare – Analysis” was posted at jpost.com on May 30, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

Since the beginning of October, Hamas has systematically made moves to sow fear and confusion within Israeli society – using media to commit psychological attacks.

On October 8, Hamas released a video showing Israeli civilians (including women and children) being held captive in undisclosed locations. The whole world saw footage of the injured, raped, and killed victims of terror. Among them was 22-year-old Shani Louk (one of the women paraded through the streets of Gaza).

More videos were published again and again – featuring soldiers, female hostages, young girls, babies and the elderly. In recent months, the psychological warfare has only intensified. Hamas aims to break the spirit and resolve of an entire nation.

The Media Line spoke to Gabi Weimann (emeritus professor of communications at the University of Haifa, who studies psychological warfare during the Gaza war) and to Israeli journalist Yaakov Katz (former editor-in-chief of The Jerusalem Post) to learn more about the monstrous psychological attacks of Hamas.

Weimann said that the psychological pressures of the Gaza war were thoughtful moves.

He explained: “It is an orchestrated and preplanned campaign that Hamas launched and started even before the 7th of October. What we see now is stage four.”

- The first stage was preplanning.

Terrorists were preparing for the invasion not just in terms of killing, torturing and raping; but also for the documentation and using the materials for psychological warfare.

“They bought equipment like cameras and cellular phones and got hold of Israeli SIM cards.

They trained the people. All of this was done before the 7th of October. The replacement of the old cards with the new Israeli SIM cards was also part of the psychological campaign because they needed to connect to the Israeli network so they would be able to upload and livestream the videos that they were filming during the attack,” he said.

- The second stage was the filming during the invasion.

“They documented everything, including the killing, the takeovers, and the kidnapping of people. Even taking corpses back was documented and sent immediately to Gaza. It was edited and posted online,” he said.

- The third stage was the release of some of the hostages.

“It was done in a very ceremonial way. Hamas came fully dressed in uniform and arms, weapons, symbols, posting videos of human gestures towards the hostages, giving them bottles, aiding them, stroking the head of a child, and so on. It was also used for psychological reasons,” he explained.

- Now, we are in the longer, fourth stage,” added Weimann.

He explained that it is meant to pressure the Israeli government into using psychological stress on the families and Israeli public.

Katz supported this point of view, claiming that Hamas’s psychological approach increased due to the military situation in Gaza.

Katz said: “Hamas feels the military pressure from Israel. It sees Israel operating in Rafah and Jabalya. By releasing the hostages’ videos, it’s trying to get the Israeli people to put pressure on the government to reach a deal to get back the hostages and end the war.”

He emphasized that there is no example of such psychological pressure from the Israeli side.

Katz explained: “Obviously you could define psychological warfare by Israel as releasing videos of interrogations with Hamas terrorists or showing the destruction of different Hamas assets. But Israel doesn’t lie the way Hamas lies. Hamas uses videos of hostages very smartly in its ability to get the Israeli people to be more vocal in their criticism of the government.”

He explained that the psychological pressure of Hamas also achieved its aim in renewing negotiations.

Katz said: “The head of Mossad was in Paris meeting again with the head of the CIA and the Qataris. Will Israel and Hamas be able to reach a deal that both of them get what they want? I hope and pray and I think a deal is possible. The question is, will Israel be able to get back all the hostages? Or will it have to accept the reality that some of the hostages might never come home?”

Weimann explained that the impact of such brutal psychological pressure on society is now impossible to measure.

Weimann said: “There is no way we can estimate the Israeli trauma, stress, anxiety, sadness, fear and pessimism, which are all now part of the Israeli climate.”

Katz added: “The fact that Hamas managed to kidnap people gave them the ability to stab Israelis in the hearts whenever they wanted to with videos and pictures of hostages.”

Isaiah 55:6-11–“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
