Luke 21:34-36—“But take heed to yourselves, lest your souls be weighed down with self-indulgence, and drunkenness, or the anxieties of this life, and that day come on you suddenly, like a falling trap; for it will come on all dwellers on the face of the whole earth. But beware of slumbering; and every moment pray that you may be fully strengthened to escape from all these coming evils, and to take your stand in the presence of the Son of Man” (Weymouth New Testament).

An article by Thomas Sowell titled “Republicans Better Get on the Ball [‘They Haven’t Made the Case Against Harris, the Clock Is Ticking’]” was posted at wsj.com on Aug. 22, 2024. Following is the article.

If the Republicans lose this year’s election – against an administration whose policies have been rejected by the public in poll after poll – they will deserve to lose.

- But do 330 million Americans deserve to see their lives ruined by another four years of the Democrats’ economic disasters and unchecked violence by both domestic and imported criminals?
- Does America deserve more tragic military fiascoes like that in Afghanistan?
- Or like allowing a spy balloon from China to photograph our military installations from coast to coast, before finally being shot down, after it was too late?

And these are the people who are telling Israel how to fight a war.

- Against this background, why is this election even close?

Some Republicans may say that it is because the media are on the side of the Democrats and suppress or distort the facts accordingly. Others may say that the universities have become indoctrination centers, promoting the kind of ideologies that favor the Democrats' agenda.

But, even if we concede all that, the fact is that a similar situation existed back in the days when Ronald Reagan won two consecutive presidential elections by landslides. How did he do it?

He did it by addressing the voting public as if they were adults who could understand an issue – if you explained it to them in plain English, instead of in political jargon or snappy quips.

There are some Republicans today who seem to understand that. But they are not running in this year's presidential election. Perhaps they may run in 2028. But there is such a thing as a country declining to the point of no return.

Four more years of disastrous Biden-Harris policies, at home and abroad, can take us past that fatal point.

Many Republicans seem confident that they will win this year's election. But just a couple of years ago, they were equally confident that they would win control of both houses of Congress in a "red wave."

The public's positive reactions to Vice President Kamala Harris's first statements after becoming the Democrats' nominee seem to be played down by Republicans – as if it were a sort of honeymoon response that will automatically evaporate as the truth comes out.

Election officials in some states will begin mailing out ballots less than a month from now. If the Republicans do not discredit what she claims within that month, the votes she gets then will be fixed – even if Republicans completely demolish her claims later on.

On Election Day, even if most voters would prefer Donald Trump, the votes of those who voted early, and later regretted it after the facts came out, will still be votes for Kamala Harris.

The time to refute what Ms. Harris is when she says it, whatever the issue. Waiting to refute what she says, until after millions of early voters have already voted, makes no sense. Nor is merely denouncing or ridiculing what she said the same as refuting it.

An article titled "2020 Report Cards (All Senators, Ideology Score)" was posted at govtrack.us on Jan. 30, 2021. [Although the entire list of the 100 senators was posted in the August 3, 2024 edition of Eye on the World, here are the top 5 and the bottom 5.]

1.	Marsha Blackburn – Tennessee Republican	1.00
2.	Kevin Cramer – North Dakota Republican	0.97
3.	Mike Braun – Indiana Republican	0.95

4.	Ted Cruz – Texas Republican	0.94
5.	Jim Inhofe – Oklahoma Republican	0.93
96.	Cory Booker – New Jersey Democrat	0.09
97.	Jeff Merkley – Oregon Democrat	0.08
98.	Kirsten Gillibrand – New York Democrat	0.06
99.	Kamala Harris – California Democrat	0.02
100.	Bernie Sanders – Vermont Independent	0.00

An article by Ben Shapiro titled “Kamala Harris’ Authoritarian ‘Joy’ ” was posted at townhall.com on Aug. 21, 2024. Following is the article.

We’ve been told, over and over and over again, that Kamala Harris is the candidate of “joy.” Tim Walz, upon accepting his vice presidential nomination, thanked her for “bringing back the joy.”

- Rolling Stone gushed that Harris’ “new politics of joy is the best way to fight fascism.”
- The New York Times headlined, “Harris used to worry about laughing. Now joy is fueling her campaign.”

Now, for most Americans, this simply is not a time of joy.

Not a single poll shows more than 35% believing that the country is moving in the right direction. Two thirds of Americans think America is on the wrong track. Meanwhile, the supposed candidate of joy has the approval of approximately 46% of Americans; almost 50% are unfavorable on her.

Three years of extraordinary inflation means that everyday items now cost at least 20% more than they did in 2021.

Uncertainty and chaos span the globe, from Ukraine to Taiwan to the Middle East.

Americans no longer know whether they can safely say that a man is different than a woman, while simultaneously being informed that it is deeply important that they elect a woman president.

But joy?

It’s a brilliant marketing gimmick, to be sure. Kamala Harris’ career has been filled with three marked characteristics.

- Blatant and manipulative calculation.
- Heavy-handed government interventionism
- Awkward, off-putting mannerisms ranging from word salad to laughter.

But “joy” can be used as a shield against all these charges.

- She is not manipulative – she’s genuine.
- She is not tyrannical – she’s caring.
- She is not awkward and phony – she’s joyous!

That laughter you hear isn’t the strange cackling of a machine politician caught in a lie. It’s a sheer outburst of happiness springing directly from the heart of a woman who is dancing on the inside. She is youth, she is joy, she is a little bird that has broken out of the egg.

Joy is also a sword to be used against opponents. Donald Trump, we are told, is a candidate of darkness and revenge. JD Vance, his vice presidential candidate, is “weird” and authoritarian. Why can’t they feel the joy?

In fact, why don’t you feel the joy?

Is something wrong with you?

Why can’t you bob your head to Beyonce’s “freedom” while Kamala dances and Tim Walz pastes on a smile so broad it would turn Jack Nickolson’s Joker green with envy?

Do you hate joy? All of this is, to put it mildly, slightly sinister.

It is one thing to demand that Americans vote for a candidate for the presidency on the basis of her policies, or even on the basis of her opponent’s supposed unworthiness.

It is another to demand that we feel the joy. It reeks of authoritarians of the past, all of whom suggested that the failures of their policies were not failures of leadership, but failure of the people to change their hearts of stone for hearts of flesh.

- It is not a coincidence that Joseph Stalin’s propaganda posters routinely featured small children gazing adoringly up at him, with the slogan emblazoned: “We Are Warmed By Stalin’s Affection!”
- Or that Mao’s posters similarly featured celebratory children with the words: “Mao’s Words Bring Joy!”
- Or that Hitler offered free vacations to members of the German Labour Front with the slogan: “Strength Through Joy!” (One legacy of “Strength Through Joy” was the German “People’s Car” – later to be known as the Volkswagen Beetle.)

Authoritarians demand emotional fealty, not merely political fealty.

This doesn't mean that Kamala Harris is a Stalinist, Maoist or Nazi (although members of the radical Democratic Party base seem to be warm toward aspects of all three regimes).

It does mean that authoritarianism papers over its totalitarian policies with the soothing platitudes of paternalism and maternalism, and demands that you sacrifice the true joys in life (family, church, community) in favor of a Big Brother. Or, in the case of Kamala Harris, a Big Mother.

Just feel the joy. And stop asking questions.

An article by Ryan Saavedra titled “11 Things to Know From Kamala’s DNC Speech” was posted at dailywire.com on Aug. 23, 2024. Following are excerpts of the article.

Isaiah 55:6-11–“Seek you the Lord while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; let him return to the Lord, and He will have mercy on him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ‘For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways,’ says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain comes down, and the snow from heaven, and do not return there, but water the earth, and make it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall My word by that goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it.”
